FLOOD IRRIGATION TOOLS AND EQUIPMENT GUIDE

INTRODUCTION

SRP wants to make irrigation as easy as possible.

Irrigation is a valuable service that depends on good communication and teamwork. We encourage you to get to know your neighbors and your neighborhood system.

It's up to you and your neighbors to care for your neighborhood system.

SRP doesn't make repairs to neighborhood systems. You and your neighbors have to work together to coordinate repairs and make sure the system is ready on water delivery days.

This guide shows flood irrigation tools and equipment you may need to use or install to keep your private system operational.

Check your neighborhood system for broken pipes, gates and valves often.

If you notice a problem, talk with your neighbors. It's important to make repairs quickly to prevent missed deliveries, flooding and property damage.

If you come across damage that you can't repair yourselves, reach out to a contractor for help. Visit srp.net/irrigationrepairs or call the SRP Water Contact Center for guidance.

If you are making repairs, let SRP know ahead of time.

We'll make sure there's no water in the system. You'll also want to let us know when repairs are complete so that service can begin again.

For more information and resources, visit srp.net/irrigation.

If you're new to irrigation, the best way to learn about your neighborhood system is to talk with your neighbors. You can also call the SRP Water Contact Center to schedule a free walk-through of your system with an SRP Field Services Liaison.
